Co-Pay Plus offers help paying for your treatment if you have private insurance. With Co-Pay Plus, you may pay a lower out-of-pocket cost for your medication than with your insurance alone.

*Co-Pay Plus: Limitations apply. Offer not valid under Medicare, Medicaid, or any other federal or state programs. Patients with commercial insurance coverage for FABHALTA may receive up to $20,000 in annual co-pay benefits for the cost of FABHALTA and up to $1,000 for qualifying vaccination costs. Patients with commercial insurance and a prior authorization requirement may receive up to 12 months of free product while coverage is pursued. A prior authorization and/or appeal of coverage denial must be submitted within 90 days to remain in the program. Novartis reserves the right to rescind, revoke, or amend this program without notice. See complete Terms & Conditions at www.fabhalta.com for details.

If you have private insurance, Novartis Patient Support can provide access to your medication for free while working with your doctors and health plan to get coverage.

Check out www.fabhalta.com to learn more about available offerings

What does that term mean?

Sometimes terms come up as you're getting started on treatment that you might not recognize. Use this glossary to help.

Appeal: A request for your insurance company to reconsider its decision about denying coverage of your medication.

Benefits Verification: This is when the insurance company reviews your coverage. This may identify a need for a prior authorization or what out-of-pocket costs may be for this prescription.

Co-Pay: A predetermined, fixed amount you pay for your medication after your health plan covers a portion of the total cost.

Co-insurance: The percentage of covered medical costs you'll pay after you've reached your deductible.

Deductible: The amount you pay for a prescription before your insurance starts to pay its portion of the cost.

Formulary: A list of prescription medications covered by a prescription medication plan or another insurance plan offering prescription medication benefits.

Government insurance: Insurance reserved for specific groups of people (eg, senior citizens, persons with low income, persons with disability, current military and their families, government employees, and some federally recognized Native American tribes) and funded by the government. Medicare, Medicaid, TRICARE, and the Veterans Health Administration program are all examples of government insurance.

Please see full Prescribing Information, including Boxed WARNING and Medication Guide.

Out-of-pocket maximum: The most you have to pay for prescription medications in a year. After you spend this amount on deductibles, co-pays, and co-insurance, your insurance plan covers 100% of the cost.

Patient support program: A program like Novartis Patient Support that helps patients, caregivers, and health care professionals find the right support when they need it.

Premium: The amount you pay for your health insurance every month.

Private insurance (sometimes called commercial insurance): Insurance you buy individually or through your employer.

Prior Authorization: An approval given by your insurance so your prescription is covered by your plan.

Retail pharmacy: An independent or chain pharmacy that dispenses medications to the general public at retail prices.

Specialty pharmacy: A pharmacy that carries medications that require specific handling and storage.
